C. M. Fielding, one of Welborn's reliable citizens, was among the business visitors here Monday and remembered the Democrat in a substantial way.

P. D. Claridy, one of the Democrat's old friends and subscribers, was in to see us Monday and had his address changed from Emerson to Luraville. He rented his farm at Emerson and has moved to Luraville.

Mr. Thompson, for a long time connected with the Mayo Free Press, has resigned, and was in the city a few hours Sunday en route to Coco, on the East Coast, where he has accepted a position on the News of that town.

Miss Emma Parshley, who owns some very valuable property in this city, and who recently had built a block of brick store and office buildings opposite the court house, was in to see the Democrat Monday and to deposit the cash to extend her subscription one year.

Joe McAlpin has returned from Tampa, where he has been for the past six months, and has accepted a position with the Troy Steam Laundry. Joe says Tampa is alright and a hustling city, but he prefers to live in Live Oak, and that he is here to stay.

The Democrat was in error last week in stating that the funeral of Mrs. B. F. Umstead was preached by Rev. John Wray of this city. The funeral was preached by Rev. Rape, former pastor of the Pine Grove Methodist church, of which Mrs. B. F. Umstead was a member.

Miss Janie McGehee returned to her home in Jacksonville Sunday after a delightful visit of several days in Live Oak with her young lady friends. Miss Janie is a general favorite in the city, her old home, and her visits here are always a source of pleasure to her large number of friends.

Prospects for a good spring business for Live Oak merchants are bright enough, providing they do their part in advertising their goods to stimulate trade and bring the buyers to our city. The man who does not try—does not advertise in this day and time must necessarily expect to have dull times this spring.

Dr. Armstrong, the well known Jacksonville specialist, will make his next professional visit to Live Oak Feb. 4; office, Hotel Suwannee. The Doctor has been very successful in overcoming all forms of eye troubles, also the straightening of cross eyes without knife. Hereafter the Doctor will make visits every four months.

We give special attention to ladies' work, and do it neatly and up-to-date and deliver it on time. We can press your suit any time you call. Phone No. 228. We are on Pine street at Star Tailoring Shop. Zac Taylor and G. T. W. Faniel.

Calvin Sistrunk, who lives in the White school house neighborhood, was in Live Oak Monday on business, and while in the city made the Democrat a visit and renewed his subscription for another year. Mr. Sistrunk lost a very fine fox hound a few days ago. It strayed or was stolen from his place, and he is very anxious to recover the dog. See his advertisement elsewhere in today's paper.

A. W. McLeran, of Welborn, accompanied by his son, one of that town's best citizens and a leading merchant and cotton buyer of this county, was in the city one day last week. He stated to a Democrat reporter that his mercantile business the past fall and up to Christmas had been very heavy. Besides his regular mercantile business he bought from the farmers in that section of the county one thousand bales of cotton, and had bought and shipped more eggs this fall than ever before in the same length of time. Welborn is one of the best towns in Florida, and been growing and improving right along through the panic as though nothing unusual had happened.

Miss Eva Hildreth returned yesterday from Tallahassee where she had been visiting friends.

Misses Janie McGehee, Sallie Porter and Catherine Robbins visited friends at Lake City last week.

Miss Boo Dexter who has been in Atlanta with her sister, Mrs. Ed Porter, is expected home this week.

Ed Porter went up to Atlanta the first of the week to visit his wife who is there under medical treatment of a specialist.

Mrs. G. H. Davis and children have returned from Abbeville, Ga., where Mrs. Davis was called to the bedside of her father who was seriously ill.

Hon. W. R. Dorman, of Houston, was among the number from Suwannee county who attended the inauguration of Governor Gilchrist at Tallahassee on Tuesday.

The Stork paid a visit to Dowling Park Thursday night of last week and left a fine boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dowling. The young gentleman tipped the scales at 10 lbs.

Mrs. L. G. Council, and two daughters, of Americus, Ga., are in the city the guests of Mrs. Council's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hildreth, Sr., and will spend the remainder of the winter here.

S. J. Higgins and G. W. Fletcher, two good citizens of Welborn, were in Live Oak Monday on business. They were callers at the Democrat office and Mr. Higgins renewed his subscription to the Democrat.

D. O. Henry on Monday purchased the Owen Byrd dwelling on West Duval street. We did not learn the consideration. This is a neat and desirable property and is situated in one of the best residential parts of the city.

J. B. Horne, editor and proprietor of the Mayo Free Press, was among the prominent visitors here Saturday. Mr. Horne looks hale, hearty and prosperous. He said Mayo was steadily growing, and that another handsome new brick business block was soon to go up there.

The Ladies' Emporium is having the interior of their store remodeled and arranged for the reception of their stock of millinery goods. They have bought a handsome line of millinery and secured the services of Miss Douglas, of Atlanta, an experienced milliner, who will have charge of that department. The stock of shoes has been sold to the new shoe store to be opened about January 15th in the store building recently vacated by Mrs. Lawler, and this, with other changes to be made in the Ladies' Emporium, will give them ample room for their new line of goods.

Miss Hallie Mardre began a stenographic course with the Southern Business College Tuesday. We are glad to know the Southern is progressing so nicely and expect to see it soon be one of the largest business colleges in the State.

W. H. Goodbread has moved back to Live Oak from Madison, and is here with his family to stay this time, and the Democrat, on behalf of the good people of Live Oak, extends to him and his excellent family a hearty welcome. W. H. is one of the best known contractors and builders in this section of Florida and built a number of the handsome and modern homes in this city.

County Superintendent R. L. Turner, of Inverness, Citrus county, was in the city Wednesday a few hours en route home from Tallahassee where he attended the inaugural ceremonies. Mr. Turner is one of the coming young men of this State. He is not only prominent in educational matters, but he is a successful business man, and has the confidence of his people who elected him for the third time county superintendent of public instruction, without opposition.

STATE, COUNTY AND CITY DEPOSITORY

J. B. BARTON,
President

ARNOLD P. MICKELSON

Prof. J. E. Wood, whose term of office as County Superintendent of public instruction expired Monday will open a law office in this city and practice his profession.

Eugene Johnson has moved his barber shop from the building adjoining the Suwannee Drug Co., to the White building, where he will be pleased to have his old customers call.

W. W. Hawkins, whose term of office as clerk of the criminal court of record expired Monday, has accepted a position with Mr. Bryson in the office of the clerk of the circuit court.

C. S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union will attend the State meeting of the Farmers' Union to be held in this city on January 22, and will deliver an address. He is one of this country's ablest men on matters pertaining to benefits to be derived from organization.

Entered the Southern Business College Monday, January 4th, were the following: Miss Ada May Roberson, city; Messrs C. C. Smith, Newberry, Fla.; Robt. Hawkins, Welborn; Edgar Peterson, Branford. More are to come in later in the week. The new year bids fair to be the best the "Southern" has ever experienced.

R. H. Carver, of Welborn, one of the members of the board of public instruction whose term of office expired Monday, was here on that day to attend the last meeting of the old board. He paid this office a visit and renewed his subscription. Mr. Carver made a good, faithful and efficient member of the board. He believes in good, comfortable school buildings, and as an official did his full duty, as he saw it, in giving every section of the county equal educational advantages.

Married
At the residence of the bride, Mr. R. W. Price, Rev. R. D. officiating, Mr. William Schmitt, Miss Mattie Ola Price, all of the bride's family, were present. No invitations were issued. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Price and is highly educated. She is a mechanic respected by all her acquaintances. We wish for them a happy marriage over the sea of life. They may be eternally joined in the shore.

Crosby-Corbin
Married, in this city, January 3rd, Mr. May and Miss Crosby. The ceremony was performed by Mr. A. Adams, notary public, at the home of the bride's father in this city. A large number of relatives and friends witnessed the happy event.
Mr. Crosby is section foreman for the Live Oak, Perry and Gulf road, at Alton, and his bride is a daughter of Mr. Coverford, a foreman for the L. O. R. & C. place. Mr. and Mrs. Crosby will make their future home at Alton.
